Wildlife expedition to the Western Ghats of Southern India

02 - 12 May - £2298 per person sharing

We are delighted that Sandesh Kadur, the wildlife photographer and documentary film maker, will be leading our May expedition to the Western Ghats. Whether you wish to hone your photographic skills or simply come along for the adventure this promises to be a very special expedition to a visually stunning and incredibly biodiverse region. En route we will be visiting Valparai - the last bastion of the Lion Tailed Macaque, Ooty and Nagarhole - home to elephant herds, Indian Bison and the elusive Tiger. Accommodation is in a combination of Tea Estate Bungalows, camping in tents and eco lodges.
