

22nd November 2014
Registration deadline 15th November

Registration opens 09:00

Provisional speaker list

David Warrell - Clinical Toxinology at a Crossroads.

John Mulley - The Biter Bit and Other Stories.

Lahcen Campbell – Broadening the Venomics Horizon: The evolution of a diverse toxin repertoire in Glycera bloodworms.

Anna Nekaris - Parasites, Predators, Prey or Themselves? Who is the target of slow loris venom.

Mark O'Shea - Secretive Serpents: Distribution and Diversity of the Elapid Genus Toxicocalamus in New Guinea.

David Richards - Drugs from Dragons.

Kevin Arbuckle - The Good the Bad and the Ugly: Consequences of Anti-Predator Defence for Prey.

Amy Scholes-Higham - All or Nothing: Investigating the Presence of Both Mojavetoxin Subunits across a Rattlesnake Contact Zone.

Adam Hargreaves – Reload, But Keep the Safety On.

Location is Brambell Building, Bangor University, LL57 2UW. Light snacks will be provided for lunch. Registration is ESSENTIAL and must be completed here <http://www.eventbrite.com/e/venom-day-2014-tickets-13465348219> (further details are available on the website). Bangor University Herpetological Society, British Herpetological Society & International Herpetological Society members - £8 and non-members - £15. For members prices a valid membership card must be displayed on the door. Contact venomday2013@gmail.com.